

Hello Russian Speaking Software Engineering Community:

Lineate is a New York based company providing high caliber engineering teams and software solutions to US-based companies primarily in the adtech, fintech, media, and education markets for over 15 years. We are a company of curious passionate engineers who live to solve the most challenging technical problems. We have long had development offices in Omsk, St Petersburg, and Saratov.

We have recently opened a new office in Tbilisi, Georgia and are actively hiring top talent.

- We are actively seeking frontend and backend engineers (Java, React, and Python) as well as Devops and QA engineers.
- These are positions with Lineate Georgia, paid in local currency (GEL) in line with competitive market rates in the area as well as a benefits package in accordance with Georgian labor practices.

We are providing Relocation Services to individuals in Russia and Belarus who would like to work with us in Tbilisi.

- We are providing the following services which we pay for and arrange on your behalf:
 - Airfare and transportation for you, plus assistance for your immediate family
 - Housing and meal assistance during the initial period after your arrival
- We are offering a one-time cash bonus upon arrival.
- We are providing assistance in finding permanent housing, establishing bank accounts etc.

If you are interested in relocation to Tbilisi and working with Lineate:

- Please email us at hiring-ge@lineate.com and include:
 - Your CV
 - Your current location
 - Whether you currently have travel papers
 - When you would be ready to relocate
 - If you are traveling alone or with family (how many people)
- We will then reach out to you to arrange an expedited interview process and answer any questions you may have. We look forward to hearing from you.
